

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

Warm greetings to everyone gathered in Los Angeles for the Oscar De La Hoya Foundation's second annual Evening of Champions. I am pleased to join you in congratulating Jim Lampley and Sylvester Stallone as they receive this year's Champions of Children Award.

Our children are our hope for profound responsibility. As we approach the new century, we must all pledge to give our children the support, encouragement, and opportunity to grow into healthy, happy, responsible adults. We must help them to nurture and guide them, help them to reach their full potential, and instill in them the desire to succeed.

I commend all those participants of Champions for helping to lead our children. By offering young people from all backgrounds a positive alternative to violence and substance abuse, you are helping to shape our future. I applaud each of you for your commitment to our children.

Best wishes for a memorable evening.
